About Us

We provide highly personalised guidance for High School students of all educational and cultural backgrounds. RS-Ed combines a professional approach with one built on strong personal relationships in complete confidentiality. We pride ourselves on being approachable, friendly, culturally aware and very conscious of the stresses placed on young shoulders at this critical time in their educational journey.

How We Work

As we move forward, each student will follow an increasingly personalised trajectory. We tailor individual meetings to specific student requirements, both academic and non-academic.
